You're probably hearing "go green" everywhere you go, and constantly wondering what exactly you can do to help end global warming.

Here's your chance to do something cool about a "hot issue" and win some awesome prizes! James Patterson's best-selling book Maximum Ride, Do Something, and Fall Out Boy are teaming up to find the best global-warming PSA from a young person like you! The winner will receive:

- A chance to appear in a PSA with Fall Out Boy, professionally produced by Do Something
- A trip for two to New York or Los Angeles
- Your PSA aired nationwide
- A $500 grant to do something in your own community

All you have to do is make your own PSA explaining what you think people can do to help global warming. Get more info now!

And whether or not you enter, make sure to share your thoughts for ending global warming below!
